SCULLS, KUEN WIN PRAISE OF COACHES

Three School Heads Join in B. C. Neighborhood Club Plaudits.

350 HEAR SPEAKERS

Stirring tributes to Paul and Follwell Scull and Gene Kuen as examples of splendid young American manhood were paid Tuesday night by three Lower Merion school heads and three football coaches. Eulogy of the three University of Pennsylvania and former Lower Merion stars was heard by an audience of 350, including the overwhelmed young men themselves who attended the annual Father and Son Night given by the Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club in the Bala-Cynwyd Woman's Clubhouse.

Principal Edward H. Snow, of the junior high school pointed to George Washington's sportsmanlike statement to a subaltern when informed of Benedict Arnold's treacherous departure during the Revolution: "Please tell Mrs. Arnold that I am pleased to tell her that her husband is safe," and declared that he saw the first great American's clean, manliness and upright character reflected in the three athletes who once attended his school.

Replying to a witticism of Neighborhood Club President George W. Selby that "Lower Merion didn't beat Radnor, but outside of that it's all right," Principal Charles B. Pennypacker, of the senior high school, retorted that "Radnor didn't beat Lower Merion, either—and it's not going to!" He pointed with pride to the fact that the Sculls and Gene Kuen not only made good in athletics when they attended high school here, but were proficient in their studies and leaders in their class activities.

Three Good Scouts. "When the papers mention these Penn stars, they always tag on the fact that they are former Lower Merion students—and maybe I don't get a kick out of that! You knew, we started these fellows—and the university finished the job. . . . They have continued. I am glad to note, to be as outstanding in later life as they were in school—in three particulars: Physically strong, mentally awake and

Sing to Rotary

The Lower Merion Junior High School chorus, led by Miss Collins, entertained the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotarians on Tuesday with Christmas carols. In addition to the chorus of 50 voices, two soloists, Bernard Mellor and Herbert Young, rendered carols to the appreciative audience. At next week's meeting, on Wednesday, member will bring one child each to share in the Christmas dinner.

Schools Close

The Narberth Public Schools closed today for the Christmas recess and will reopen after the holidays on Thursday, January 3. The regular meeting of the Narberth School Board will be held this evening at 8 o'clock.

Lower Merion Good Team in Fine School 150 Guests Decide as Alumni, Ferreira and Hess Present Trophies at Banquet

Events of great import to athletics at Lower Merion High School happened in rapid sequence at the annual turkey banquet for the football team, held in the senior high cafeteria, Montgomery avenue, Ardmore, on Saturday night.

First, in behalf of H. A. Ferreira, Cynwyd, Thomas C. Yocom, school director, presented a beautiful silver loving cup to the junior high football team, to be engraved and used at the option of E. H. Snow, principal.

Then the Alumni Association gave a silver plaque to the senior high on which annually there is to be engraved the name of the year's most valuable player. Ernie Mandes, who won the honor this year in the opinion of the former students, received a gold football from Ed. J.

DADS ARE PROVEN EXCELLENT HOSTS

Fathers' Night at Mothers' Council was Complete Success.

AN INFORMAL MEETING

Those who braved the storm on Monday night to attend the meeting of the Mothers' Council spent a most enjoyable evening. As they entered the auditorium they were handed programs on which was printed "Every dad has his day", also, "Know all men by these presents: That the fathers of Narberth children are just as interested as the mothers in the happiness and success of their children at school and at home."

There followed stories of real experiences as told by the fathers themselves. Kenneth L. M. Pray gave the definition of a "bore" as a person who wants to talk about his children when you want to talk about yours. So an opportunity was given each father to tell a true story about his own child while the rest listened. This gave a very informal note to the meeting.

William Kurasch, a talented young violinist, accompanied by Miss Sinberg, played several selections and was most enthusiastically applauded.

Dr. Frederick Allen, the principal speaker of the evening, gave a talk on Parenthood. According to him it should not be such a serious matter. There should be more joy in being a parent, greater flexibility and understanding which allows for better growth and development in our children.

The fathers then served punch and cakes just as efficiently as any group of mothers could and the meeting adjourned. But the mothers are already looking forward to "Fathers' Night" in 1929.

WEATHER WAS MILD

"Mild and unseasonable" was Main Line Weather Observer Charles A. Decker's comment on the weather of the week of December 11 to 17. The snow and cold snap of a week ago was soon dissipated under the benign rays of a sun which brought the mercury up to a high point of 58 degrees on Monday.

With no snow on the ground, Santa Claus' reindeer will have rough going, though a change to cooler weather towards the end of this week intimates that winter weather may set in again before Christmas.

Boxes Lighted

Lights were installed this week on the five police telephone boxes in the borough. Fire or other emergency calls may now be turned in at these boxes; the connection being direct with police headquarters at Ardmore.

Altering Property

The George T. Knutzen property at 202 Forest avenue was recently transferred to H. A. Jacobs, of 206 Forest avenue. The new owner is contemplating making extensive changes in converting the house into modern apartments.

Christmas Eve Celebration to Be Impressive Community Event

THE CANDLE GREETING

For more than a dozen years Narberth homes have placed candles in the windows on Christmas eve as a sign of goodwill and good cheer on Christmas eve.

Single candles, or flames in designs, are set in windows from which the curtains have been carefully drawn lest fire spoil the holidays. A small electric candle is used by the more modern home.

Walking the streets, or caroling, on Christmas eve, one will be greeted by hundreds of the little lights. Let no home fail to set out its greeting!

CHURCHES ADD TO CHRISTMAS CHEER

Special Services, Caroling and Entertainments Feature Observe

FIRST ONES TONIGHT

Christmas will see a fitting observance in the churches of Narberth. In addition to participation either in groups or informally in the Christmas eve celebration, special services are scheduled to be held at several of the places of worship.

"White Christmas" service is being held this Sunday at the Presbyterian Church, which is described at length elsewhere in this issue; while a brief service is planned for Christmas morning at 9 A. M.

As has been their custom in past years, the Young Peoples' Fellowship of All Saints' Church will rally forth carolling through the streets of Narberth and Wynnewood. They also plan to join in the community carol service at the Christmas Tree at the Narberth station. The Fellowship will return to All Saints' Church in time to participate in a midnight carol service from 11 to 12 P. M. Ancient and modern carols will be sung by the choir at this service, interspersed with singing of the more familiar carols by the congregation.

Christmas parties for the younger members of the local churches begin tonight with the

L. M. PASSERS WIN FIRST TWO GAMES

Friends' Central Defeated, 46-23; Collingdale Loses, 37-24.

AT W. CHESTER TODAY

The first week of the basketball season at Lower Merion High School ended with two victories for the Maroon and White. Friends' Central and Collingdale High were the victims, the former losing last Friday, 46 to 23, a two to one score, and the latter dropping its game Tuesday, 37 to 24. Both contests were played at the Ardmore gymnasium.

The first real test comes today when Lower Merion faces West Chester High at West Chester in a Suburban League game. The result of Friday's opener was highly satisfactory to the enthusiastic multitude which gathered in the high school gymnasium to see the initial contest. The passing and all around team play of Doug Crate's Overbrook boys kept the game at a high pitch every minute. Lower Merion won, 46 to 23.

Captain Reds Kohlhas, Warren Lockwood and "Rabbit" Sherwood dropped 18 field goals through the cords during the game, Lockwood leading with nine. Kohlhas shot six before he left the game by the personal foul rule late in the fourth quarter. Sherwood took Scott's place at center for ten minutes of the last half and shot three beauties before Carol Singing Led by Bruce Carey to Feature Service Around New Tree.

NEED CONTRIBUTIONS

Narberth's Christmas Tree Celebration and "Community Sing," to be held on the station plaza on Christmas eve at 7 o'clock, promises to be the most impressive Community Christmas event on the Main Line, and by far the most largely attended and most interesting in Narberth's history.

A gathering of many hundreds of residents of the borough and surrounding sections, from babes in arms to gray-haired veterans, is already assured. Old and young will join to make Narberth again the "Singing Town," under the inspiring leadership of Bruce Carey. The old familiar songs have been chosen, so that none may fail to join heartily in the singing. Song books will also be provided for those who need them.

The committee reports wholehearted response from every church in Narberth, in making the community event a complete success. Prompt co-operation was pledged by Rev. Samuel MacAdams, of the Methodist Church; Rev. John Van Ness, of the Presbyterian Church; Rev. Robert F. Hayes, of the Roman Catholic Church; Rev. Robert E. Keighton, of the Baptist Church; Rev. Cletus A. Senft, of the Lutheran Church, and Rev. Gibson Bell, of the Episcopal Church. Auxiliary organizations within all these congregations are planning to take part, many of them meeting elsewhere and going in a body, carolling on the way, to join the community meeting around the Christmas Tree. The Young People's Fellowships and Societies are also active and will add to the big turnout. Some neighborhood groups which have long had their own local carolling service on Christmas eve are celebrating a little earlier than usual this year so that they can join in the community event. Children of the public schools are also arranging to add their voices to the volume of song.

The tree itself, which will take the place of the bare and luckless relic of last year's event, is already in place, and towers well above any of the past. It is a cut tree, but the Civic Committee of the Woman's Community Club is now laying plans for the planting of a permanent tree early in the coming year, which will serve for next year's Christmas and, they hope, for years to come, growing larger as the years pass. Gay lights than ever, and more of them, are being put in place, to give light and color, not only for the Christmas eve event, but throughout the holiday season.

Contributions to help cover the expense of preparing and lighting and supervising the tree are beginning to come in. Among the first was a generous gift from the Sub-Junior Section of the Woman's Community Club, which was followed by the appointment of a committee to lend service in other ways. The contribution jars in various stores and banks and in the post office are also beginning to fill up.

AID NEEDY FAMILY

The Junior Section of the Women's Community Club held a business meeting on Thursday evening, December 13, at which the main topic of discussion was that of deserving families to whom the club could give help for Christmas.

One fatherless family, recommended by the Federation of Churches, was decided upon as being worthy of attention. The family consists of the mother, who can work but little, and four boys, the oldest being too frail to work and the rest too young. Each girl was taxed a certain amount to buy staple food, enough to last for some time after the holiday season, and the suggestion of giving this family any warm clothing which they could use was also approved.

There being no other business, the meeting was brought to a close, after which the girls enjoyed a game of bridge.

The Season's Greetings

"They call it the Golden Rule Offspring of the Christmas Jewel."

The practice of the Golden Rule is the result of good sense, of some good nature, and of much self-denial for the sake of others, and with these plans and purposes worked out in man's mind and heart with due regard for his fellows, the whole fabric of human worthwhileness must fall before the Rule fails. May the spirit of this Rule, this religion of its own, be the guiding factor in control of our every action during the coming year, and may we, in our commercial as well as our social activities, ever hear, predominant above the disturbing and oftentimes distracting clatter of the everyday hurry and struggle for worldly success, the still small voice which brings its own reward to us in the "doing unto others as we would that they should do unto us."

We extend greetings to our customers, with the wish and the hope that you and yours may enjoy every pleasure and blessing the season may bring.

Wishing you a Merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year.

"WHITE CHRISTMAS" AT LOCAL CHURCH

Novel Service at Presbyterian Church on Sunday, December 23.

ORIGIN IS EXPLAINED

Some 17 years ago there fell into the hands of a minister's wife a beautiful legend that prompted a Christmas service with real spiritual significance, which since then has had its counterpart in churches and Sunday schools the country over.

For the first time, so far as is known, such a Christmas service is to be held in Narberth. The legend which suggested this significant Christmas service is as follows:

"This strange country is called Cathay, and the ruler thereof is one Kublah Khan, a mighty warrior, who, by reason of his strong will and trusty sword, has made himself lord of the whole land. His government is both wise and just and is administered for rich and poor alike without fear or favor. On the King's birthday the people observe what is called the White Feast. Then are the King and his court assembled in a great room of the palace, which is all white, the floor of marble and the walls hung with curtains of white silk. All are in white apparel and they offer unto the king white gifts to show that their love and loyalty are without stain. The rich bring to their lord pearls, carvings of ivory, white chargers and costly embroidered garments. The poor present white pigeons and handfuls of rice. Nor doth the great king regard one gift above another so long as all be white. And so do they keep the king's birthday."

As so the "White Christmas" was suggested. And what could be more fitting than that on the day which Christmas commemorates—the Christian peoples' King's birthday—His subjects should bring "white gifts" of loyalty and love?

The "White Christmas" service of the Narberth Presbyterian Church is to be under the auspices of the Sunday school. Each member of the school from the Cradle Roll to the Home Department will bring their white gifts to the altar of the white decorated church at the service to be held December 23, at 7 P. M.

The "White Gifts for the King" will be of three kinds—gifts of self, gifts of service and gifts of substance. The gifts of substance, which from all reports consist of everything from money to food, will be sent to the Presbyterian orphanage.

It is hoped that this Christmas service will be far reaching in the spiritual work of the Presbyterian Church.

Discuss Tariff

The tariff in the early days of the United States was the subject under discussion at the December meeting of the League of Women Voters last Monday afternoon.

Mrs. John Gilroy spoke on the tariff at the beginning of the Government under the Constitution. That a protective tariff existed in those days, Mrs. Gilroy assured her hearers, quoting several articles which were under duty to protect the young manufactures, such as coal, salt and millinery. Mrs. E. C. Drew followed on the program, showing how the tariff was increased until it was really a protective tariff after the war of 1812.

The FIRESIDE

Mrs. John Albrecht entertained Wednesday evening at bridge at her home.

It doesn't seem strange these days to hear of one's friends being confined to their homes because of illness, but nevertheless, it is not pleasant to think about at this season. Miss Evelyn Jefferis, of Forrest avenue, has recovered from an attack of grippe, and so has Hugh B. Speed, of 127 Chestnut avenue. Mrs. Clarence H. Woolmington, of 23 Narberth Park, had her young daughter as a nurse when she was ill in bed this week. H. F. Stevens, of 420 Haverford avenue, is recuperating from a bad case of the grippe. Mrs. C. A. Farmer, of Woodbine and Cleveland avenues, who is president of the Woman's Club, has been home all week with a bad cold. Mrs. John J. Paul and her two young daughters were also confined to her home on Iona avenue with bad colds. Mrs. James B. Smith, of 110 Avon road, is very ill now at her home. Miss Dorothy Miller, of North Narberth avenue, suffered a painful accident last week when she fell and broke her kneecap. It is thought that she will have to be in bed for about a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert VonHofen, of Narberth avenue, and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Von Hofen, of the Baird apartments, will spend the holidays in Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Pearson, of 215 Dudley avenue, will entertain out-of-town guests for dinner on Christmas.

Murray Robertson, of Price avenue, will spend Christmas in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. John C. Motter and her small daughter, Barbara, of the Baird apartments, are guests of friends in Wilmington for a fortnight.

Miss Jean Carlisle, of Wayne, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. W. Darville, of Merion and Essex avenues, for the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Hugh B. Speed, of 127 Chestnut avenue, will leave today for Memphis, Tenn., to spend the Christmas holidays. It was mentioned in last week's "Our Town" that Mrs. Speed would leave last Friday, but this was an error.

Miss Dorothy Speck, of Woodbine avenue, will return this week from Hood College, Md., for the holidays. Miss Honora Snyder, of North Narberth avenue, has returned from Holton Arms School, Washington, until after the New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Parker Miller, of 514 Dudley avenue, entertained at bridge Saturday evening. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brockhouse, of Highland Park; Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Ridgway and Dr. and Mrs. George Alexander, of Overbrook.

Mrs. Samuel Dickie, of Glen Mills, Pa., and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Millard M. Dickie, with their young son, are occupying their old home on Hampden avenue, where they lived for a great many years before moving out of town.

Among the club women from here who were guests at the luncheon Monday morning at the Bellevue-Stratford were Mrs. E. H. Cockrill, Mrs. Fletcher W. Stiles, Mrs. Romaine C. Hoffman, Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller, Mrs. Clarence T. Faries and Miss Emma Mueller. Will Rogers was the guest speaker at the luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Mason have moved from 216 Forest avenue, to their new home on Moreno road.

A. J. Betus, of 132 Merion avenue, has just returned from a month's trip to South America.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Paige, of 227 Dudley avenue, will have Mrs. Paige's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Algo, of Elizabeth, N. J., and Mr. Paige's mother and sister of Philadelphia, as their guests for Christmas holidays.

Miss Louise Krout, of Essex avenue, is spending this week-end in Gettysburg, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Miller, of Merion and Essex avenues, will have Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Beck, of Swarthmore, for their guests for Christmas dinner. Miss Anita Miller will entertain a few friends at her home Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Hongler, of 327 Merion avenue, will be guests at the annual family dinner which Mr. and Mrs. Frank Muller will give Tuesday at their home in St. Davids.

Mrs. Howard Zigler and Miss Catherine MacAdams, of Atlantic City, were guests over last week-end of Mrs. Walter Nash, of Lantwyn lane. Mrs. Nash gave a bridge party Saturday evening in honor of her guests.

Robert Harris, son of Jesse S. Harris, of Merion avenue, made a trip this week with the Lehigh University basketball team to western New York for games with the Universities of Rochester and Buffalo. Harris, who is a

Jimmy England and Douglass Livingston have returned from Valley Forge Military Academy and the Episcopal Church Farm School at Glenloch, Pa., respectively, to spend the holidays with their families.

Misses Mona Lyle and Rosalie Shaw returned this week from Mt. Holyoke College at South Hadley, Mass., for the Christmas vacation with their respective families on Avon road.

Churches Add To Christmas Cheer

Sunday School entertainment of the Methodist Church at 8.15, the feature of which is a cantata entitled, "A Christian Trip to Toyland." The Presbyterian Bible Schools' frolic will occur Saturday at 3 P. M., with carols, entertainment and refreshments crowding the afternoon. The Bible School of the Lutheran Church will hold its Christmas entertainment to-night at 8 o'clock.

A special Christmas service at 5 P. M. Sunday afternoon, is planned by the Baptist Church at which the dramatization of the story "Why the Chimes Rang" will be presented. This service will take the place of the regular Sunday evening service. This dramatization was presented by the Baptist Church three years ago and proved so popular that it is being given again.

A Christmas musicale, at the Methodist Church next Sunday, December 30, will write finis to observance of the Yuletide for this year.

MOTOR CAR AND SLED

"Sledding gaily down hill, shrill voices raised in whoops of sheer joy, life pulsing vibrantly in sturdy bodies—then, death, swift and tragic. Two homes plunged into deepest sorrow, two lives needlessly sacrificed, two more victims added to the long list of tragedies traceable to the failure of parents to recognize that changed conditions of traffic demand change in the mode of children's play and recreation.

Thus the Keystone Automobile Club sums up a recent accident in which two boys were instantly killed by a motor car while sledding on a Philadelphia street.

"There is," says Joseph R. Murphy, supervisor of the Ardmore office, "no disposition to exculpate the driver of the car who heartlessly abandoned the little victims and continued on his way. The speed with which he crossed the intersection may have been responsible for the crash, but, for all practical purposes of accident prevention, the point should be stressed that the use of sleds on the highway, whether in cities, towns or villages, is an open invitation to disaster and should be absolutely banned by all careful and prudent parents.

"Snow has the same lure for children of this generation as it held for the fathers and mothers who enjoyed the capital winter sport of sledding under conditions vastly different from those of the motorized age. In the 'good old days' the only danger was accident to the sledders by upsetting. Today children on the highways are beset with the manifold dangers of collision with cars and trucks.

"Wherever possible, local authorities should recognize the right of the boys and girls to healthful winter sport, by roping off the streets to traffic during certain hours. Where no arrangement can be made, it is far better to keep sleds from the hands of children than to allow them to run risks that in many cases will inevitably result in serious injury or death.

"The Philadelphia accident, coming with the first snow of the season, should serve also as a warning to motorists. Only the exercise of unusual care by drivers will avert calamity where children persist in the dangerous sledding practice in unprotected streets."

Joyeux Noel!

WHEREFORE Merry Christmas? How else can one express the Peace, Good-Will and Gladness symbolized by the Season's colorful signs? The Star in the East; the tall, slim fir-trees, snow-bedecked in forest, glistening with color in the home; the bright red and green of the Holly, the orange, purple and red of the fruit; the spicy, savory odors of Christmas dinner—and above all—the shining eyes and rosy cheeks of Children—what signs are these but of joy and beauty and gladness? Merry Christmas!—no other words can ever group the pictures half so well.

THEREFORE with the others we chime it—our Christmas tree nods it—the tall silver candles in our window gleam with it;—

Merry Christmas!

Sculls and Gene Kuen Win Praise of Coaches

morally straight. . . . No higher tribute can be paid a man than to say that he a good scout—and these three attributes are, of course, the fundamentals of the Boy Scout code.

"These young men were boys with strong, healthy bodies—and they have kept them that way. . . . All three held offices in their classes during school life here, although Folwell had the advantage of age over Paul—we didn't deem it prudent at the time to have two Sculls leading their class. . . . Just think!—two brothers in the same house, attending the same school and the same college, and never a scrap. . . . I have two boys—I can't say that!"

Mr. Pennypacker paid tribute to the Sculls and Gene Kuen for their truthfulness, straightforwardness and leadership. "They were always four-square," he concluded.

Superintendent S. Edgar Downs, of Lower Merion Public Schools, was introduced by Mr. Selby with the statement that "what he knows about transportation makes Mitten look like a novice. We had Mr. Downs at a club meeting once, explaining his bus schedule for taking children to school, and its intricacies were amazing, especially to us who always had to walk when we went to school. . . ."

Two—or Three—"Jewels." Mr. Downs recalled the instance of Cornelia, the Roman matron, who, when jeered by others more richly gowned and bejeweled than she, presented her two boys to the assembled company and said: "These are my jewels."

"After all is said and done," he went on, "it doesn't matter very much whether you have stocks and bonds and money, but it matters very much that you have the right kind of boys. I am certain that this neighborhood will always have good boys if it has good fathers, and I am certain that the fathers can learn as much from the boys as their sons can learn from them."

"Nothing is better for a boy than having his father as a chum, nor more valuable for the father than having his boy as a chum. . . ."

Speaking of the three honor guests, Mr. Downs declared: "We are glad that our boys look up to them, because they are clean, brave and true. I congratulate this community for having these young men as representatives of it."

Coches Albert C. Adam of the Lower Merion gridiron team was called on for a brief talk, and he lamented the fact that the Sculls had gone on to college before he took the reins of the Maroon and White squad. "If I had a choice of all the backfield men in the country," he said, "I would pick Paul Scull. That's not a compliment; it's a fact." He commended all three stars on their career, and predicted great things for Gene Kuen, who has another year before him at Penn.

Folwell is Versatile.

Praise for all three athletes was sounded by Penn's line coach, "Lud" Wray, who declared that Folwell played a great game for Penn at end last year, and that although he was not so rugged as Paul, was strong, intelligent and fast.

"Folwell was a track man, and a great one, too. That called for an entirely different type of spirit than football. In track the individual comes first, but in football it is the team spirit that counts. Folwell, who did well in both sports, is a most unusual type for that reason," he said.

"As for Gene Kuen, he can't help but make good in a big way next year. Not only does he have the ability and the experience gained already, but he has a fine mother who is proud of his gridiron career, and is backing him to succeed. I've heard that during one game, after Gene was called off the field, his mother leaned over to one of our coaches, whom she didn't know, and beamed 'Number 15 is my boy!'"

Saved for the chief talk of the evening was a testimonial by Louis Alonzo Young, head coach of the Penn team, who declared: "I come not only as football coach but also as representative of a great traditional university, which is proud of these boys. I want to thank you people for your share in their development."

Victories are all very well, and we have had our share of them, but there are finer things that our football men get than praise when they win; they learn to take their lesson in defeat; they learn to lose properly and to win properly. . . . One of the finest things I have heard about our team in the six years I have been its coach, was the statement by Thorpe that he loves to referee down at Penn because its players are the finest sportsmen he has met on any gridiron. That meant more to me than many of the victories we have won."

Of Folwell Scull his coach said: "He was a great end—high-strung blue-blood every inch—one of the highest grade ends we've ever had. If we had fed him more forward passes, he would have been conceded to be one of the greatest ends in the country."

Of his brother: "Never in the University's history have we had a greater all-around player than Paul Scull—or a more modest one. Just think—in his sophomore year he won two major games and tied another major game—single handed. He is probably one of the outstanding football men of the last 25 years. If you have any more Paul Sculls, send them to us."

"Gene—One of the Finest."

Of Gene Kuen: "He came to us when he was needed. He is one of the finest players we have. No man can make a good name in the backfield unless he has a good line in front of him, and our line this year was one of the best in the country. It is only because you have a good line that you can win football games and that you can make All-American men in the backfield."

"Football is a team game. Your Neighborhood Club, with its 650 members, and your other community organizations along the Main Line, are all trying to develop the spirit of team play. That is why football is the finest

Praises Paul

Louis Alonzo Young, Narberth, head coach of the University of Pennsylvania football team, who declared Tuesday night at a Neighborhood Club meeting in Bala-Cynwyd, that Paul Scull, Bala, is the best football player Penn and Lower Merion have ever produced.

American game we have today—it is practicing team play."

For the three stars he predicted: "They will live clean, upright lives; they will be a great inspiration to these younger men."

Presented by President Elmore with fountain pen-and-pencil sets, the three rose and were presented to the audience.

Folwell said: "Paul is an All-American football player—and an All-American brother as well."

Gene Kuen commented: "In football we learn not to do some things we like, and we learn to do some things we don't like—it's all in the game." He paid glowing tribute to the Penn coaches as men and instructors.

Paul Scull, who had arrived late, after basketball practice, told the boys present that if they play around with their footballs and have a good time with them while in grammar school, there will be plenty of opportunity for them to win gridiron honors later in life. "You know," he concluded, "the biggest arguments I have about football take place around my house on Sundays, when I'm asked to explain what happened on Saturday."

Before Christmas

We love the joyous Yuletide,
The blessed Christmas time—
When people are so happy
Their faces seem to shine.

We love the spicy fragrance
Of the spruce and balsam pine.
And the lovely holly branches
With the mistletoe entwined.

And the people who are loaded
With their presents on the street,
If you wish to make some headway
You must push with arms and feet.

But the crowd is so good natured—
They don't mind a punch or two,
They will help with falling bundles,
Making way for them and you.

And you, too, are just as patient—
If you're knocked upon the head
With a bright new shining wagon,
Or a sled that's painted red.

And tin toys that are protruding
They may scratch your cheek or chin,
You may feel a bit like swearing,
But instead, you smile or grin.

It is fun to watch the people—
All their arm with presents filled,
When we hear the Christmas music
Then indeed our hearts are thrilled.

Yes, we love the merry season
And the gladness it imparts,
How it brightens up the winter—
Cheering even saddened hearts.

MARGARET L. GRIFFITH,
Narberth, Pa., December, 1928.

THE CHRISTMAS STORY

There are stories that never grow old, that never lose their interest, and heading this list is the oft-told story of Bethlehem. There is a perennial delight in the recital of this narrative because of the coming of a Baby into the world and because of the wonderful character and work of the Boy of Bethlehem when he grew into manhood.

Attacks of the critics who would wipe all the miraculous from the pages of Holy Writ have failed to shake the confidence of the sons and daughters of men in the reality of the song of the angels on Judea's plains or the journey of the Magi to the Cradle of the Infant Redeemer. These iconoclasts have failed to grasp the real meaning of the wonderful tale, which is not only that a proclamation of peace was made to the people on earth, but that the message first was given to a group of shepherds, then later revealed to a company of men of wealth who came from a distant clime.

But the marvel is not that a few shepherds heard the wonderful song, but that after the lapse of over nineteen hundred years this story has a stronger hold upon men than at any time in the history of the world. The song that was sung that night has been transplanted into deeds, has been given a diapason of world-wide power, and everywhere is felt the influence of the Child who came to Bethlehem centuries ago to teach men how to live, to show how a hero could die, and to stand forever as a Saviour of those who want to taste the higher delights of earth.

Perhaps the best evidence of the strength of Christianity today is found in the common desire that nobody shall be neglected on Christmas. Individual effort is bent to this end, organizations of all kinds plan to feed the hungry, to clothe the poor, to gladden the hearts of the children in lowly homes and in other ways to carry the message of good will to the forsaken corners.

What has brought all this deep human interest into the world? Why should all this be done on the anniversary of the Founder of Christianity? The answer to these queries supplies a testimonial to Him whose coming made Christmas.

Miss Grace C. Lennox, of Bethlehem, last Friday night was taken to Bryn Mawr Hospital suffering from shock, cuts and bruises as the result of an automobile accident at Montgomery avenue and School lane, Ardmore.

According to police, Miss Lennox was trying to make a left-hand turn into Montgomery avenue when a car driven by Charles Brook, Negro, chauffeur for Mrs. L. C. Clark, Jr., New York, crashed into hers. Brook was held under $500 bail.

MAKE NEW POST FOR DR. WILBUR

W. K. Holman Elected Honor Court Head at Annual Meeting.

GIVE 34 SCOUT AWARDS

William K. Holman, St. Davids, was elected chairman of the Main Line Court of Honor, Boy Scouts of America, at its December meeting held last Friday in the Presbyterian Church, Cynwyd. His election came after Walton Forstall, Rosemont, requested that his name not be put up for re-election, giving as his reason the press of his other scout activities. The retiring chairman is assistant treasurer of the Delaware-Montgomery Council and chairman of the Montgomery County Court of Honor.

Mr. Holman also was re-elected district representative to the Executive Council of the two counties, of which Edward A. Carlson, Ardmore, is head. To the Delaware-Montgomery Scoutmasters' Council, O. W. Birkinbine, scoutmaster of Troop 2, Cynwyd, was elected. He succeeds Alfred Wall, Merion scoutmaster.

For Dr. Bertrand K. Wilbur, Haverford, a new rank was created in the Court of Honor, and he was elected its first vice chairman. Dr. Wilbur is chairman of the Lower Merion Board of Health.

Two new merit badge examiners for the Main Line district were appointed. They are Alva Severson, scoutmaster of Ardmore Troop No. 2, who will test scouts' proficiency and knowledge of masonry; and Dr. George A. Sloan, who will examine applicants for honor in public and personal health, and first aid.

Executives Henry Fawcett and Russell Moll from bi-county headquarters in Philadelphia aided at the court meeting, over which Dr. Wilbur presided in the absence of Mr. Forstall. Twenty-four scouts, in six troops, were awarded thirty merit badges and two star and two life scout ranks. Those honored were as follows: Bala Troop, No. 1—Henry Bomberger and Bert Turner, one badge each; George Hill, two; Stanley Schuler, two and life; Richard McCurdy, two and star, and Thomas Bowes, star.

Cynwyd, No. 2—John Condon, one; Clark Morian, three; John Tipton, life rank, and Charles Lueders, two.

Merion—William Ferguson, two; John Snyder, three; William Way, one, and Harland Shaw, two.

Wynnewood—Fred Bates, Robert Maston, Ruben Nordblum, Henry Wagner and Nye Spencer, one badge each.

Ardmore, No. 1—Denton Barkman, two badges, and Donald Estey, Bruce French and Crozier Ludlow, one each.

Bryn Mawr, No. 1—Robert Lengel, star and life ranks.

The MONTGOMERY BUS COMPANY SENDS

Greetings!

At the Christmas Season and the near approach of the New Year we feel that we should not be availing ourselves of a real opportunity were we not to enter into the spirit of Christmas with Thankfulness and Good Will to All.

The Montgomery Bus Company has, by studied attention to every detail involved in the problem of transportation, carried, with safety and despatch, its increasing patronage with creditable regularity and always endeavored to maintain service at the high standard it deserves.

The human side of this problem of safe and reliable transportation is in the hands of carefully selected young men, especially trained, that they may not only meet the exactions demanded of them in the operation of the busses but are men of character and alertness in aiding patrons to the best of their ability—not, for one moment, forgetting their politeness.

With the Spirit of Thankfulness for the Service that the Montgomery Bus Company has thus been able to render do we approach the New Year with the determination to improve such service wherever and whenever within our power.

Meteors Lose to Mules; Battlers Trim Marathons

The Battlers defeated the Marathons two games out of three last Friday night when the teams rolled on the alleys of the Ardmore Recreation Club in a Narberth Church League match. A handicap of 27 pins in each frame was insufficient to keep the Marathons on top except in the last game which they won by a margin of 16 pins.

A handicap of 81 points allowed the Mules was too much for the Meteors to overcome, and the latter lost two games and the match by close margins.

time of year. One small child would like a new tooth to use in place of one recently extracted, while two or three requests have been filed with Santa for baby brothers or sisters.

The necessity of putting return addresses on mail is emphasized by Postmaster J. Bertram Nesper. He says that between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 Christmas and New Year cards are received at the dead letter office every year, in addition to the regular receipts of undeliverable mail, because they lack return address. This amounts to a yearly loss of $325,000 in addition to the disappointment in not receiving the cards.

150 ATTEND BANQUET

After the excellent dinner served by Miss Virginia Fretz, of the domestic science department, and a corps of volunteer girl assistants from the high school, C. B. Pennypacker, senior high principal and toastmaster, introduced the fathers of the senior players and the other notables present.

Boys' Sportsmanship Praised.

Mr. Pennypacker also read regrets at their inability to be present from Philip A. Hart, who was welcoming the public to the new Bryn Mawr Trust Company of which he is president, and from H. A. Ferreira, of Cynwyd, who was ill but expressed the hope that he would see the next Lower Merion-Norristown game.

Coach Adam, the first speaker, paid a tribute to the aid given him by the assistant coaches, commiserated the boys who sat on the bench while they watched the Varsity men gain glory, and announced that next year's prospects were about the same as were those of the past season, which was unqualifiedly termed by others a success. He emphasized that there were "no soft ones" on the schedule. Radnor, he said, will have a very good team next year but the advantage of playing on the Ardmore field may offset the disadvantage Lower Merion faces in the loss of several veterans.

An address by F. H. Elmore, father of Captain Bobby Elmore, in which he lauded the team spirit of Lower Merion, was followed by the presentation of the new Ferreira cup to the Junior High team. E. H. Snow, principal of the Junior High, responded.

Adam Lion of Evening.

Throughout the evening praise was showered upon Coach Adam for his code which places the welfare of the individual player above victory, for his lack of desire to roll up big scores against the opposition and for his ability to bring out annually the best qualities of sportsmanship in scores of boys. Among those who spoke most highly of the coach were Principal Pennypacker and Superintendent of Schools S. E. Downs, who pointed out that although more than 200 boys had been engaged in football and soccer in the Senior and Junior Highs, no serious injuries had resulted. Mr. Pennypacker also commented on the care given the athletes on the field by Dr. W. L. Martin, of Cynwyd.

Banquet Service Indorsed.

Other speakers included Bobby Elmore, 1928 captain; Clarence Scott, 1929 captain; E. E. Burlingame and Richard J. Hamilton, of the School Board; Peter C. Hess, M. P. Burlingame, Ernie Mandes, Enos Derham, brother of Joseph Derham, donor of the Lower Merion-Radnor cup; Physical Director William H. Anderson and Russell Byerly and James B. Davis, assistant coaches. And the keynote of the addresses was: "Were going to beat Radnor next year!"

Moving quietly and efficiently in the candlelight, behind the long tables, the diners were served by the Misses Almira Gregory, Alice Marshall, Marion Marshall, Marguerite Smith, Mary Armistead, Ruth Hopkins, Margaret Meredith, Catherine Augst, Catharine Patton, Helen Sharpless, Nellie Frantantoni, Sara Burgess, Elizabeth Vennemann, Betty Bunting, Dorothy Tilbury and Harriet Breisch, under the direction of Miss Fretz. M. P. Burlingame, of Bryn Mawr, asked for a rising vote of thanks for their offices, which was enthusiastically given.

One of the evening's features was the autographing of the novelty football favors given to each of the players. The more energetic holders had their ovals signed in every available spot by the heroes of the gridiron and by faculty members.

Among Those Present.

The list of diners follows: Football Squad—Elmore (captain, 1928), A. Mandes, D'Amora, Faulk, Lockwood, E. Mandes, Kohlhas, Beatty, Dolan, Scott (captain, 1929), Cave, McLaughlin, Neely, E. he was removed for a substitute. "Perk" Scott and Al Mandes had one field goal each, and the team dropped in six foul tosses out of nine tries.

The boys from Friends' Central played a fast passing game, and in Hoffman uncovered one of the fastest forwards seen on the Lower Merion floor in years. It was impossible for Mandes to stop him without nearly fouling many times in his attempts. The playing of Von Uffel at center was also very good.

Coach Bill Anderson has a fine group of boys for his team this season, but he is facing the problem of having to use two or three players at the center position during each game. Neither Scott, Sherwood or Segal show quite the ability that a good center needs. Scott's shooting and passing are not so good, although he is a good jumper; Sherwood can shoot and pass, but he cannot jump, and Segal has not had sufficient experience.

Kohlhas Looks Good.

Alfred D'Amora played a whale of a game at guard and he showed that, with a chance to play regularly, he will be a valuable man to take Cook's place alongside Al. Mandes.

Franklin Kohlhas played the best game of his career and promises to become one of the finest players in the suburbs. For the first time in three years his teammates took advantage of the opportunities his fast cutting gave them and got the ball to him at the right fraction of a second. His feeding of the ball to Lockwood and Sherwood was instrumental in running up the large score.

Exclusive Main Line Presentation

Tuesday afternoon, Coach Anderson's basketball players had a difficult job on their hands. Bill Hickman, coach of the visiting team, brought over a stalwart group of passers who held Lower Merion to a 16-15 score during the first half. Captain Franklin Kohlhas was so well guarded during the game that he did not get away for a single field goal.

Lockwood contributed seven baskets from the field and Sherwood, substituting at center, located the cords for three. Al. Mandes outshone himself by dropping five neat cord-swishers from the center of the court, and these five were the only shots he took all afternoon. Al. D'Amora, Mandes' fellow guard, took two shots during the afternoon and converted one of them into a two-pointer. "Days" guarding was beautiful all during the game, holding Robertshaw, the star of the visiting team, to two field goals while he was in the game.

Kohlhas played a good floor game, but his work was not up to his efforts on Friday. Lockwood played his usual good game at forward.

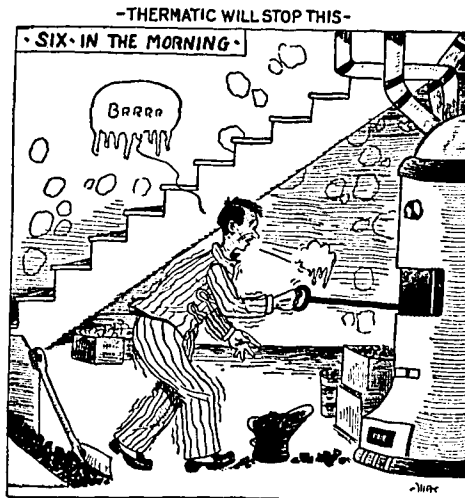

Thompson and Robertshaw starred for Collingdale, the two accounting for 14 of their team's 24 points.

Meet West Chester Today.

Coach Anderson has his work cut out for him today at West Chester, where the Maroon will meet Harold Zimmerman's boys in a 4 o'clock game in the State Armory. The floor is so narrow and short at West Chester that the five-man zone defense employed by the Chester county team will be hard to penetrate.
